

Human Rights Commitment
Version 6
August 2025

“Alinma Bank is deeply committed to upholding and reinforcing human rights principles across all its operations and relationships. This commitment adheres to the guidance of Islamic Sharia principles, Basic Law of Governance, and the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia’s official laws and regulations, as well as to international recognized standards, such as the International Bill of Human Rights and the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises, in alignment with Saudi Arabia's agreement.”

We are explicitly committed to respecting and upholding human rights across our value chain, including the prevention of human trafficking, forced labor, and child labor, the promotion of equal remuneration for work of equal value; and the prevention of all forms of discrimination.

1. Purpose

Alinma Bank is committed to supporting and protecting human rights across all its operations and relationships, in line with Islamic banking.

As an Islamic bank, all its transactions, contracts, and obligations are compliant with the provisions and controls of Islamic Sharia, international standards, and the relevant official authorities in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia. This commitment is fundamental to the bank's organizational culture, values, policies, and relationship with its stakeholders, including customers, employees, suppliers, and the community.

2. Our principles

Alinma Bank is dedicated to fostering an inclusive, safe, and ethical workplace, as outlined in our Code of Conduct and this Human Rights Commitment. The health, safety, and well-being of our employees are of paramount importance, and we strive to provide safe working conditions in all our facilities.

We are committed to being the fastest and most convenient bank, always acting in the best interest of our customers, treating them fairly and with respect, and providing, honest, and reliable service. We expect our suppliers to adhere to our Responsible Supplier Code, which sets minimum standards for ethical conduct, and environmental, social, and economic responsibility.
